

SIZE GUIDE

HOW WE MEASURE

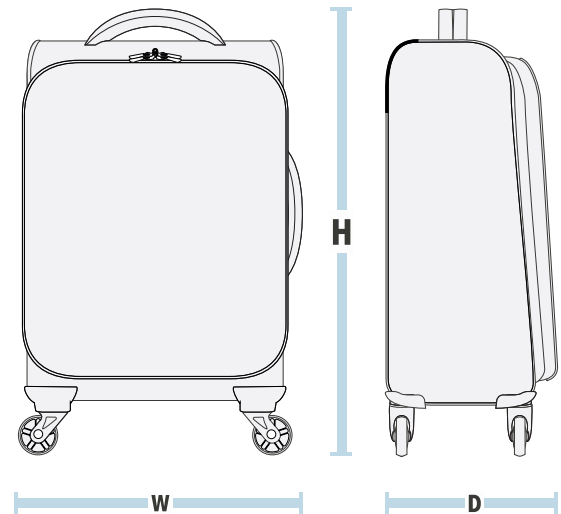

At Ricardo Beverly Hills, we aim to provide the most accurate sizing information possible. We carefully measure all components of our luggage to closely adhere to the size allowance designated by most major airlines.

Outer dimensions include all wheels, handles and pockets—it's the size of the case to the complete outer limit. An exception to this standard is in the instance of totes and bags with longer carry handles. Those exterior measurements include the main body of the bag, and the handle drop is an additional measurement. An additional measurement we provide for uprights is the body dimension which excludes wheels and handles.
